Intuitive Feng Shui® In The 21st Century

Personal Health and Transformation in a Time of Global Change

With William Spear

October 18 – 19, 2008 | Seattle, WA

The Emerald Feng Shui Institute is very honored to host for the first time, long-time teacher and mentor of Gisela Stehr's, William Spear, for a most exciting workshop on Intuitive Feng Shui®. This weekend explores the correlation between feng shui, health, emotions, and personal transformation – complete well-being as a timeless system of unifying principles.

Feng shui can be applied to more than just the mundane, material aspects of furniture placement and physical structure. To make effective and enduring changes using feng shui, it is essential to understand our homes and buildings as living organisms of interconnected cells, organs and systems that breathe, contract, expand and pulse vitality through our everyday lives. Feng shui clears the path for energy to flow and expands consciousness from the inside out. This powerful process of transformation is the premise of Intuitive Feng Shui®. While bed and desk locations are key elements to “external” feng shui, it is through an empowered understanding of the architecture of consciousness that this ancient art endures the test of time.

Practicing feng shui effectively requires more than applying learned data; it means being a receiver and transmitter of energy, in whom being is more important than knowing or doing. This workshop examines various levels of change and harmony: spirit, karma, emotions, body and chi from the viewpoint of macrobiotic principles and Oriental philosophy. Practicing Intuitive Feng Shui® means clearing the space within, letting go of past resentment, expectation and distorted emotional baggage, returning to the wisdom of unconditional presence, compassion and love as the true source of balance and harmony.

William Spear travels worldwide consulting and lecturing on integrative health, End-of-Life Care, feng shui, the I Ching, 9 Star Ki and cosmology. With more than three decades teaching and consulting with individuals in difficult, unusual, and/or life-threatening situations, Spear bridges Eastern and Western modalities. In 1991, he founded the International Feng Shui Society in London and served as its first Honorary President. Spear is also the president of the non-profit Fortunate Blessings Foundation offering educational programs and leading international trauma relief teams following natural disasters as in Sri Lanka and Indonesia. His popular book, Feng Shui Made Easy, published in 1995, has been translated into thirteen languages.
